MINISTER WHO SLEW BUSINESS MAN FILLS PULPIT TWICE SUNDAY

By Associated Press. Fort Worth, July 19.—B. F. Bouldin, attorney, and chairman of the board of trustees of the First Baptist Church here, today discredited reports that Rev. Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor and slayer of D. E. Chipps, shot to death Saturday, would conduct his own defense. am handling the case myself for Police at noon were searching for Mrs. Fannie Greer, private switchboard operator at the Westbrook hotel a few blocks from First Baptist Church, from which they had a tip that Chipps called Norris Satsurday just before he appeared at the church in search of him. Mrs. Greer was not at work Monday reporting to her employers that she was ill. Inquiry at her, residence, however, failed to reveal the presence of anyone there. J. J. Mickle, who described himself as "general assistant to everything around the First Bap-' tist church." this afternoon gave out a brief statement on his own authority for the church, as follows: "The First Baptist Church is in possession of evidence which will prove that there was a diabolical conspiracy to kill the pastor of the First Baptist Church,

"A Practical Demonstration to Navarro County Farmers, of Tractor Farming Equipment"

On Wednesday, July 21st

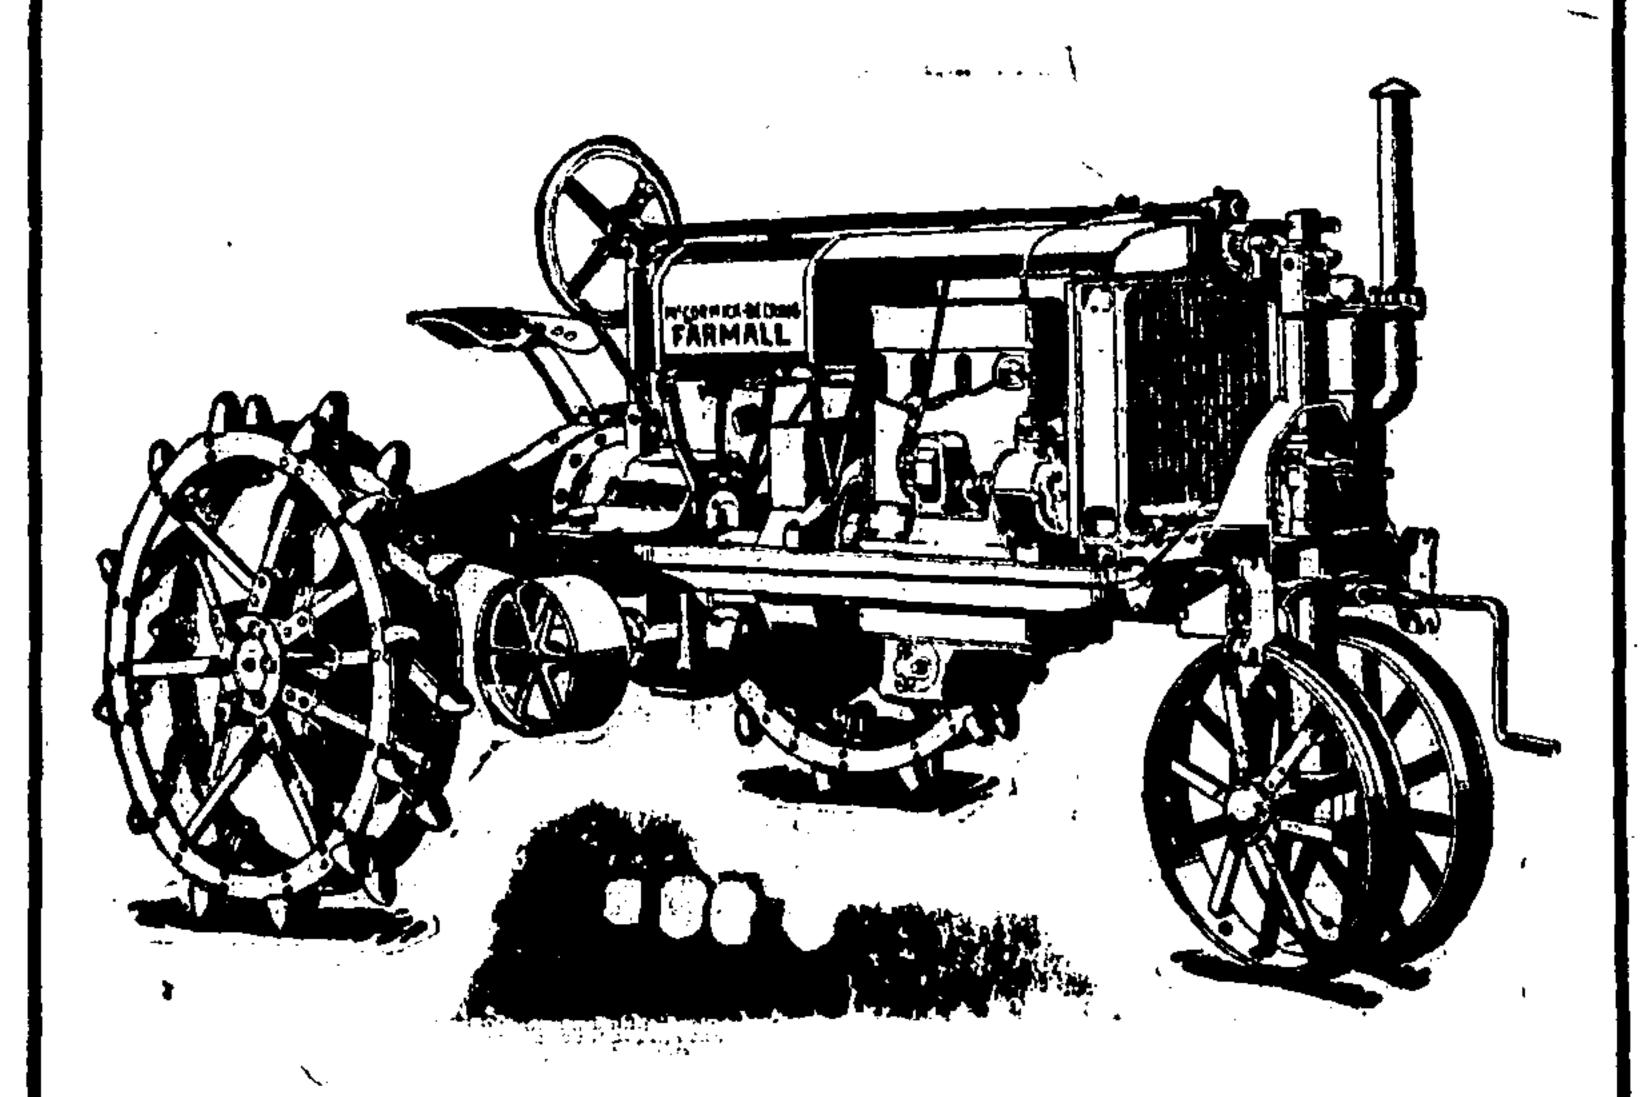

With the assistance of capable representatives of International Harvester Company (weather permitting) we will demonstrate the International "FARMALL" Tractor with its particular power farming equipment to the interested and wide-awake farmers of Navarro County. With this comparatively inepensive equipment will be operated a Double Middle Breaker, Bedding and Rebedding, Planting, Cultivating Cotton Four Rows at each round, Pulling Disk or Mould Board Double Plows and also used as a comlete Mower with 7-ft. blade. Come and bring your interested neighbor and wife. Give the DRANE COMPANY an opportunity to "show you" that right here in good old Navarro County power farming can be done economically with the "FARMALL" power farming equipment.

NOTE—In one section of this "Grand Old State" One Hundred and Twenty-three (123) successful farmers are users of "FARMALLS" Usually, and very unfortunately for this section, the feed item is more of a draw-back than the cotton yield.

Let us help you solve that problem. "FARMALLS"

Where Are You On Election Night?

(Written exclusively for The News by a Member of Its Staff.)

When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice, but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn,—Prov. xxix, 2.

WHAT Texas and the Nation needs is more pedagogues and fewer demagogues.

There is no greater asset in any community than a good teacher.

There is no greater liability in any community than a hypocritical demagogue poiltician.

Not all politicians are hypocrtical demagogues any more than all teachers are carnest and sincere instructors of youth. There are some men called politicians because of their sincere interest and commendable activity in political matters. Every citizen should be a politician to the extent of taking a real and active interest in public affairs.

But the dishonest, insincere spoils politician is a blood-sucking parasite. His efforts are to trade something for nothing and receive "boot."

He exchanges hot air for cold cash, and venal services for V-notes.

He is willing to trade honor for leisure and conscience for luxury.

He is a leech posing as a honey bee, an owlpretending to be a nightingale, a vulture claiming to be a golden pheasant.

His hand is constantly outstretched to receive for to offer a bribe. He is busy extending the ""glad hand," though a member of the political black hand.

He prostitutes patriotism for gain, thus feathering his nest by befouling it.

He is a "fence" where the plunder of political theft is bought and paid for with counterfeit, money.

One is his friend today, his enemy tomorrow, the exigencies of his political fortunes being the determining factor. So he shouts "Hosanna" today, but may yell "Crucify him! tomorrow, depending upon whose bid is the highest in the meantime.

He knows he is but an exploiter and despoiler, but poses as a statesman.

To him the American flag looks like a bank note, the stars and stripes representing coin and currency.

He considers the State and National Capitols vast gaming houses where he and his kind play the game of politics; where offices and perquisites, emoluments and privileges are stakes, and where the game is always played with stacked cards or loaded dice. As he views it, the country's needs are the excuse for the game, and legislation enacted simply the bribe for "protection."

To him intelligence means subtlety, ability means cunning, an bluff and bluster are his stock in trade.

To him voters are "suckers," and their ballots are his reward for his ability to hoodwink and manipulate, wirework and juggle.

He claims office by right of superiority in contests where dissimulation is talent and chicanery is genius.

He is a stranger to honor, a burglar in the house of his friends, a robber who wants pay for the crimes he commits.

The honest, straightforward, patriotic office-hold or is a real servant of the people. And there are some of these now—many of them—just as there have always been.

The citizen who takes no part in elections, who is indifferent as to who is chosen for office, and who stays away from the polls on election day is not a good citizen in the fullest sense.

He is a poor patriot indeed who is willing to see party or persons win at the expense of principle and the common weal of State and Nation.

When the United States of American follows governments of the past or those of the present to the cemetery of dead nations, it will be by involuntary suicide, and not because of aggression at the nands of other nations.

How the Vision Is Seen

Those who are at all familiar with the history of the nations of the past, who have in their own day been observant of cause and effect in government as in other things, do not find it difficult to foresee a condition that is the inevitable result of causes already at work.

One knows as well that certain results come from certain causes in government, society, economics and ethics as in physical objects and elements. He knows this not only from reason, but history has made it plain to any one who timks.

In a word, the history of the nations of the past has been about this: Establishment, strength, riches, idleness, amusement disintegration.

At once there are those who will exclaim, "Mr. Killjoy!" "Cut out the sob stuff!" "Everything's all Right!" and other similar expressions, which come from the unthinking. No, that is not the idea at all. There are many amusements that are not only innocent, but helpful. Entertainment is one thing, amusement another. Instruction is one thing, mere talk is another.

Too much time and attention given to things that amuse, too much dwelling on things that are not productive of worth-while results, means too little attention to matters that are vital to the well-being of peo-

It will not be disputed by those who love their country and mankind, and who watch with deep interest social and governmental conditions and the trend of thought among the people, that there is a greater interest in things that "amuse" than ever before in the history of our country. Such a condition has always portended decadence. It recalls to mind the prediction by the Apostle of conditions that were to exist at a certain time in the history of the world, wherein alluding to the worldly-mindedness of the people he said they would be "lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God,"

The hurry and confusion of everyday life, and the never-ending search for amusement, accounts in large measure for the appalling indifference so manifest on the part of millions to spiritual, moral and patriotic things.

Vital Things Demand Attention

Vital elements of life, whether in nation or individual, can not be neglected without disastrous results.

As with individual, so with nations. They must be established on the Rock of Truth and maintained upon the eternal principles of right and justice, else they go down in disintegration and decay. This is because righteousness is the basis of both economics and spiritual necessity.

There can be no questioning the fact that when the higher things of life—spiritual growth, culture, refinement, mind cultivation, ethical aspiration—are made to give place to the frivolous, the superficial, the trivial, it is a sure index to the trend of the times and the awful results that are sure to follow.

When more attention is given to sports and aumsements; when the public eye is fixed most upon those whose doings are not productive of constructive achievement; when the pursuit of material wealth superseder all thought of spiritual well-being, and patriotic zeal becomes diminished to a degree that makes it practically negligible, then indeed have we come to the place where Hope has cause to fold her wings, Faith to tremble, and Peace and Contentment to shudder with auticipations of despair and desolation.

There is need of a new infusion of patriotic blood, a new sense of individual responsibility, and therefore need of individual action, regardless of personal cost and disconfort. This can come only from awakened consciences, revival of acknowledged duty to state and Nation.

"The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God."

Pernicious Work of Demagogues

Too often the people are brought under misappre hension as to their government by the exaggerate and fiery fulminations of the demagogue, whose stock in trade is open and indiscriminate condemnation of the acts of the Government, about which he knows little and cares less.

Perhaps the failure of the "good citizen" to fulfil his patriotic duty is responsible for governmental decay to a greater degree than are the hypocritical machinations of the self secking and office-seeking demagogue.

There are such things as criminal apathy, sinfindifference, disgraceful tranquility, shameful serer ity, inexcusable neglect on the part of many who have both the patriotism and the capacity to perform with efficiency the duties devolving upon those who would serve their country. They have no excuse.

The man who stays at home on election day an growls about what he sees as defects in governmenta affairs is far from being a good citizen.

The good man may stay away from the polls, by

The voter who votes as directed by some one else the voter who votes because he is paid to do so, the voter who doesn't know the best interests of his courtry, the voter who really doesn't know how to votight, never fails to go to the polls and vote—and whe he does he votes wrong!

Mr. Good Citizen, what are you going to deabout it? If you do not go to the polls and vote of the best interests of your country, your title as Goo Citizen is a misnomer.

Thus it is that the cancer of internal dissensice begins to eat at the vitals of the body politic, induce by the furminations of the demagogue.

Behold the blatant and hypocritical spellbinds parading himself before the public gaze in all the grandeur of hypocracy and conceit, mediocrity an littleness! In him is personified and demonstrated the successes achieved through the presumptuous effort of ambitious imbecility.

Go to the polls and keep him out of office, at the same time putting in a good man if there is one will wants the place.

Governments depend more upon the quality citizens than on the number of them.

Let nothing weep you away from the polls nessaturday, keeping in mind the thoughts suggeste here. Do your full duty in voting for the best men each case, and feel the satisfaction which comes duty well done.

In making a comparson of nine standard makes of 30x3 1-2 tires, we found that they vary from 9 to 13 1-2 pounds in weight, but the Dayton "Thorobred" Red Stripe Cord contains 18 pounds of the finest tire material obtainable. Some of these tires have only THREE PLIES, while the of Balloons are 4 ply. The new 6 ply Flat Tread Dayton is the linest Balloon Tire Built.

Dayton "Thorobred" carries SIX. Some of them contain reclaim rubber and shouldy, whereas never an ounce of reclaimed rubber or never a bit of shoddy has ever. a been placed in a Dayton. Some of these makes run only 3 to 5 thousand miles, but it is customary for a Dayton to run from 12,000 to 15,000 miles, and in many instances, they render 18,000, 20,000 or 25,000 miles or more or troubic free service.

Dayton is one of the few companies making 6-ply Balloon s. There is no such thing as an 8 ply Balloon and 90 percent
